Provide high-value managed security and compliance services.

At its core, your business may be about increasing merchant engagement, driving sales or ensuring business continuity. You don't want to specialize in security and compliance any more than your merchants do.

ControlScan partnerships bring together PCI compliance programs and managed security services to deliver a win-win scenario for your business and the merchants it serves:

- + Easier security and compliance for them = Increased customer retention for you
- + ControlScan-driven support for them = Less support time and dedicated resources for you
- + Single-source product/service access for them = Additional installation income for you
- + And, your business gets residual income on all ControlScan referrals.
